

Greenpoint Saltwater Pump House (SWPH) Resiliency Project- Stage II

Greenpoint, Brooklyn | May 2023

Greenpoint Community,

We wanted to share an update on work at the Greenpoint saltwater pump house facility located 287 Maspeth Ave in Greenpoint

Project Review:

The replacement of the saltwater pump house (SWPH) located within the footprint of the Greenpoint Energy Center is underway.

The first stage included pre-engineering studies and the demolition of a vacant operations building to prepare the site for the new SWPH. The demolition was completed in the winter of 2023.

The next stage involves marine work and the construction of the new SWPH. As part of the company's net zero commitment to reduce its own emissions, the facility will include solar panels on the roof to supplement electricity for the building.

The new SWPH is in development and is scheduled for full commission in 2025.

Stage II: Marine Work & New SWPH Construction

Following the demolition of the accommodations building (see the green outline on the map), crews will now begin marine work, which entails work within the water, followed by the construction of the new saltwater pump house.

In the coming months, anticipated work involves:

- Waste characterization sampling: summer/fall 2023
- Marine Work: fall/winter 2023
- Construction of New SWPH: winter/spring 2024
