Simple tactics to reduce costs.

Focusing on water usage helps conserve water and can lower your energy bill significantly. A high-efficiency natural gas water heater can save up to 30 percent on your energy bill and the savings will increase by up to $400 thanks to available energy rebates. Visit ngrid.com/save to view a list of qualifying equipment and available rebate forms.

You can also:

- Stop leaks to save gallons of water and reduce your bill.
- Install water-saving faucets and low-flow showerheads.
- Set water heater temperature at 120° F to prevent scalding.

No identification? Don't let them in.

National Grid employees, including contractors, are required to carry a photo identification card with company logo. If someone is requesting entry into your home or business without the proper ID, do not let them in and contact customer service at 1-800-930-5003. If you feel you are in immediate danger, call 911.

Handy tip for CO safety.

Carbon monoxide is an invisible, odorless gas that can be deadly if left undetected. It's good to be CO aware year-round even as summer approaches.

It's a good idea to install a carbon monoxide alarm. We recommend that the alarm be marked with the "UL" certification (UL 2034) and installed near bedrooms.

Don't wait – report gas theft.

Tampering with or bypassing meters or piping puts lives in danger, threatens public safety and damages property. If you have information about energy theft, please call us at 1-800-930-5003. All information will be kept confidential.

Know signs of a gas leak outdoors.

As we spend more time outside during warmer months, it's important to know the signs of a gas leak. If you smell gas and see a white, cloudy mist, bubbles in standing water, and/or hear a hissing, roaring or whistling sound, it could be a gas leak. Don't hesitate – leave the area and call 911 right away.
