DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

NOTICE OF FILING, PUBLIC HEARING, STAKEHOLDER MEETING, AND REQUEST FOR COMMENTS

D.P.U. 23-85

November 14, 2023

Petition of Massachusetts Electric Company and Nantucket Electric Company each d/b/a National Grid for Approval to Offer Optional Electric Vehicle Time-of-Use Rates.

On August 11, 2023, Massachusetts Electric Company and Nantucket Electric Company, each d/b/a National Grid (“Company” or “National Grid”), filed with the Department of Public Utilities (“Department”) a petition for approval of its optional electric vehicle (“EV”) time-of-use (“TOU”) rates proposal. The Company filed its EV TOU rates proposal pursuant to Chapter 179 of the Acts of 2022, An Act Driving Clean Energy and Offshore Wind. The Department docketed this petition as D.P.U. 23-85.

In its petition, National Grid proposes to offer a Rate EV-1 rate class to residential and small commercial customers with EV chargers and to owners of public EV charging stations with metered demand less than or equal to 200 kilowatts. National Grid states that: (1) the Company designed the proposed Rate EV-1 rate class to offer distribution and supply (i.e., basic service) rate components that incentivize EV charging during off-peak hours; and (2) the proposed Rate EV-1 rate class applies only to electricity used to charge an EV. As proposed, customers who opt-in to the Rate EV-1 rate class must have a separately metered EV charger to meter EV load. The Company submitted an exemplar tariff for the proposed Rate EV-1 rate class.

The Company’s proposed Rate EV-1 employs a TOU rate design with three components: (1) a fixed customer charge; (2) volumetric TOU energy rates for distribution; and (3) volumetric TOU energy rates for basic service. Additionally, the Company proposes to apply reconciling rates as currently structured to the Rate EV-1 rate class based on the general service, small commercial and industrial retail delivery service G-1 rate class. The Company designed the EV TOU rates with two time periods: (1) a peak period of 1:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. for non-holiday weekdays; and (2) an off-peak period for all other times. National Grid proposes to offer the Rate EV-1 rate class to customers no sooner than one year after it installs its first advanced metering infrastructure meters and associated supporting systems, which the Company plans to roll out between 2025 and 2028.

If the Company's petition is approved as proposed, National Grid states that the bill impacts for EV users that opt-in to the Rate EV-1 rate class will vary based on several factors, including usage and when an EV is charged. The Company estimates that, based on current electric rates, a residential customer who charges their EV only during the off-peak period would save on average up to $23 per month under Rate EV-1 compared to the residential Rate R-1. Lastly, National Grid states that the electric rates for customers that do not own an EV will not change as a result of the proposal.

The Department will conduct a virtual public hearing to receive comments on the Company's filing. The public hearing will be immediately followed by a procedural conference.
